ONCE ROARING CENTER OF DIAMOND MINING IS NOW GHOST TOWN

JOHANNESBURG, (AP)—Grasfontein, 12 years ago a roaring city of 140,000 inhabitants, with its diamond diggings yielding $25,000,000 worth of stones a year, is a "ghost town" with a few thousand poverty-stricken people today.

There are long empty streets of ramshackle dwellings. Business establishments have closed, amusement places are deserted, only a few shops are open to serve those who still remain.

Yet Grasfontein once ranked next to Kimberly as one of the great "diamond cities" of South Africa. Thirteen years ago it was the scene of one of the greatest diamond rushes in the world.

POSTMASTER EXAMINATION IS PLANNED IN PLACERVILLE

Receipt Of Applications To Take Civil Service Test Will Close July 11th; Post Pays $2,800; Open To Men Or Women

An open competitive examination to fill the vacancy in the position of postmaster in this city has been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission at the request of the Postmaster General.

The time for filing applications to take the examination closes on July 11, 1939. The salary in the Placerville postmastership is $2,800 per year.

In order to be eligible for the examination, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States, must have actually resided within the delivery of this post office, or within the city or town in which the office is located, for at least one year immediately preceding the date fixed for close of receipt of applications, and must be in good physical condition, and within the prescribed age limits. Both men and women are admitted.

Under the terms of an Act of Congress, approved June 25, 1938, the Civil Service Commission will certify the names of the highest three qualified eligibles to the Postmaster General who shall thereupon submit the name of the one selected to the President for nomination. Confirmation by the Senate is the result of an examination room for final action.

Applications will be required to be written tests, and will also be rated on their education, business or professional experience, general qualifications and suitability. The Civil Service Commission will make an impartial inquiry among representative patrons of the office, both men and women, concerning the experience, ability, and character of each applicant, and the evidence thus secured will be considered in determining the ratings to be assigned to the applicants. The Commission is not interested in the political, religious, or fraternal affiliations of any applicant.

Full information and application forms may be obtained at the post office in this city, or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications must be on file in this Commission's office at Washington, D. C., not later than the date specified at the head of the announcement.

Suspension Bill Passes House

Mining Assessment Deadline May Be Set Over To October 1st

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The House passed late yesterday and sent to the senate a bill by Rep. Abe Murdock, D. Utah, extending until October 1, 1939 the time within which annual assessment work must be commenced on mining claims held by location.

Earlier Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes warned holders of mining claims that they must begin $100 worth of assessment work before noon on July 1 to prevent relocation of claims. He said his action was not a change in policy but an answer to inquiries in view of indications that congress might not enact exempting legislation.

Congress suspended the $100 assessment work requirement for the year ended July 1, 1938, but the senate still must act on the Murdock bill extending the deadline for this fiscal year.

COUNTY GUNNERS PLACE HIGH IN SHOOT AT SACRAMENTO

El Dorado County bird-busters won a second and a third in a trapshoot tournament held Sunday at the Del Paso park range under the auspices of Ducks Unlimited.

Fred Dambacher, of Walnut Grove, was high in the registered trapshoot division and went into first place after a shoot-off with eight other gunners.

Among the eight who tied with him were Ernest Carsten, Jr., of Camino, who took second place, and Les Neikens, of Placerville, who took third place. There was a field of 123 entered.

Miss Doris Wudell is home for the summer from San Francisco where she has been attending school. Miss Barbara Cohn, of San Francisco, accompanied her and will remain for a short visit.

DUKE, WALLY TO VISIT LONDON

May Establish Residence There, Visit United States Next Year

LONDON, (AP)—The Evening Standard reported today that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor would come to England to live in October.

The Standard said the Duke for some time has decided to give up his fight to have the Duchess recognized as "her royal highness" which the British government refused to grant to the American-born Wallis Warfield Simpson.

The Duke's attitude on royal recognition has been the chief barrier to a visit by the couple to England.

The paper said it is possible the two will visit the United States next year.

Regarding residence in England, The Evening Standard said: "There is no question of their obtaining permission. As British citizens, the Duke and Duchess are free to come and go as they please."

SEPTEMBER 1ST OPENING FOR UPPER TRUCKEE IS SCHEDULED
Although the Upper Truckee is closed to fishing between Lake Tahoe and the bridge across the highway at the foot of Luther Pass, fishermen are interested in the scheduled opening of an additional section of the stream on September 1st.

According to Game Warden Al Sears, on and after September 1st, the stream will be open to fishing from the lower highway bridge at the highway crossing of the creek near Al Tahoe, to its headwaters. That section of the stream between the lake and the highway bridge near Al Tahoe will remain closed.

In view of the low water this year, sportsmen are reported as endeavoring to have the opening date on the Upper Truckee advanced, but up to this time there is no order on opening the river earlier than September 1, and woe to the transgressor.

"TOO MANY FISH" DRAWS FINE FOR TWO ON JONES SILVER

Cited on June 18 on Jones Silver creek, for having too many fish in his possession, Lloyd Matlock, of Camino, appeared recently before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis to plead guilty on behalf of himself and on behalf of Ellsworth Smith, of Sacramento, who also was so charged.

Judge Lewis fined Matlock $35 and Smith $25.

Game Wardens report Matlock had 57 fish in his possession and Smith 36 fish.

Matlock's explanation to the judge was that while it was true that they had more than the legal limit of fish in their possession, it was also true that the fish represented a two-day catch, so that the limit of catch had not been exceeded for any one day.

This did not alter the fact that they had too many fish, however.

"Be Alive On The Fifth", Safety Plea

CHICAGO — "Be alive on the Fifth!" The National Safety Council today called on every citizen and every public official in the country to unite in a nation-wide effort to cut down the annual Fourth of July accident toll.

"If history repeats itself," said the Council, "the Fourth of July this year will bring a national catastrophe to the United States. Thousands will be killed or injured, children will be maimed for life."

"Why? Because each year America chooses Independence Day to stage a jamboree of carelessness. On the highways, in the homes, on the beach and picnic grounds men, women and children are killed off by the score, even as they celebrate. Traffic crashes, drownings and fireworks are the chief instruments of death on this occasion."

"There is no rhyme or reason to this wholesale slaughter. It must be stopped."

Last July, the Council said, 8,720 Americans were killed in accidents—more than twice as many as died in the Revolutionary war. Ironically, a big part of the July death toll comes from the celebration of the Independence gained by that war.

LION LEGATES MAKE REPORTS

Convention Echoes Given Club By Delegates At Luncheon Meeting Tuesday

Assemblyman Lion A. G. Thurman, of Colfax, will be the speaker at the meeting of Placerville Lions on Wednesday July 5. Lion Max Baer, entertainment chairman for July, announced early this afternoon that the committee has received Lion Thurman's acceptance of an invitation to address the club.

Reports on the convention of Lions of the Fourth District, held at Long Beach last week, were the principal order of business of Placerville Lions at their regular Tuesday luncheon meeting.

The meeting was conducted by Lion President Louis Armes, who led off the convention reports with a brief summary of the inspiration in service club work which he received from the convention.

He called on Lion Harold Morehouse who spoke of his surprise and interest at finding the convention theme concerned not so much with mere service in community activities, but going higher than that and concerning itself with the broader phases of national citizenship and patriotism.

Lion Thomas Maul spoke in some detail concerning the public speaking contest and joined with Lion Morehouse in commending the efforts of the various high school boys and girls who took part in the contest.

Leo Baisden, of Sacramento, was elected district governor. Maul reported, and the Nevada section was divorced from this district and made a separate district with Norman Brown, of Carson City, as district governor.

The meeting next year, Maul reported, will be at San Jose.

Lion Secretary Mart reported on the particular interest he found in the convention as secretary of the Placerville Lions.

Lion President Armes informed the club that "The meeting next Tuesday will be on Wednesday, because it is the 'Fourth of July.'"

Louis is still a little self-conscious up there wielding the gavel, but the Lions correctly understood him to mean that the club will meet on Wednesday, July 5, since the regular meeting day is a holiday.

Lion Max Baer, entertainment chairman for July, reports a speaker of special interest is being arranged for.

Highway Patrol Awaits "Rush"

July 4 Traffic May Set All-Aime Record; Cato Cancels All Vacations

SACRAMENTO—Motorcycles and speed cars of the California Highway Patrol are being tuned and traffic officers throughout the state are preparing to put in long hours to control the heaviest motor travel ever witnessed on state highways during Independence Day celebrations. In many cases it is believed the celebration may extend over a four-day period.

Chief E. Raymond Cato has cancelled all leaves in order to have every available man on the highway to regulate motor vehicles traveling to Treasure Island at San Francisco, the Centennial Celebration at Sacramento, to numerous rodeos and to vacation areas, which places are arranging to care for the biggest crowds in history.

Traffic officers have been advised that numerous business houses are arranging to remain closed on Monday, July 3rd, thereby giving many employees an opportunity for a three or four day holiday and will arrange their schedules to care for motor vehicles traveling to and from these vacation and celebration places. Every available piece of equipment of the Patrol will be placed on the highways. During the next few days motorcycles and cars will be tuned up, the radio checked and first aid sets carefully examined so that the officers will be ready for emergencies resulting from the expected heavy travel.

Fireworks Ban On U.S. Land, Over July 4th

Fireworks will be banned except over the waters of certain lakes on Eldorado Forest during the current season, according to an order issued this week by the forest headquarters.

Declaring a period of fire hazard and danger to the forest in effect during the season, the Forest Service invoked Section M of Department of Agriculture regulations, which:

"Prohibits the discharge of fireworks on National Forest lands or the placing or throwing of a burning cigarette, cigar, match, pipe, heel, firecracker or any ignited substance in any place where it may start a fire, with the exception of fireworks, which may be discharged over the waters of Echo Lake, Lake Tahoe, Wrights Lake, Loon Lake, Twin Lakes, Kirkwood and Silver Lakes."

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MAKE IMPROVEMENTS DURING VACATION PERIOD

The boards of trustees of several rural schools are taking advantage of the vacation period to make needed improvements at their school plants. This is according to County Superintendent K. W. McCoy.

Buckeye, at Shingle, he reports, is preparing to erect a fence between the school house and the main highway, on which the school yard fronts and Coloma is planning a similar improvement since its building fronts on Highway 49, near a rather abrupt turn which is something of a hazard.

Georgetown school is taking advantage of the summer vacation to complete a new fire escape.

Notices have been posted in territorial barracks throughout the country, it was learned, warning the troops—corresponding to the American National Guard—to clear up all personal affairs before they report for their annual training period in camp.

Fruit Rots As Pickers Strike

Stanislaus County Apricots Threatened By Labor Troubles

MODESTO, (AP)—Fruit ripened and rotted on the trees in western Stanislaus county's apricot orchards today as striking pickers and cutters surrounded half a dozen large ranches and turned away men and women seeking work.

Sheriff Grat M. Hugin sought and obtained from the board of supervisors permission to increase his staff with as many special deputies as necessary to keep peace after hostilities between strikers and non-strikers were on the verge of violence.

A traveling caravan of pickets visited at least seven ranches, hurling threats and clouds of earth at the handful of pickers remaining at work, the sheriff's office said. The growers said they were told any fruit moved from their orchards would be dumped and destroyed.

The Workers Alliance, representing the strikers, meanwhile negotiated without success with individual growers for wage agreements to last the rest of the season.

The strikers were demanding 13½ cents per 40 to 50 pound box and 40 cents an hour for other than piece work. Growers had been paying 10 cents per box and 25 cents an hour.

OIL COMPANY REPORTS
MAY SALES GAIN
GREATEST

According to an announcement made today by W. T. Winkins, vice-president in charge of sales for the Richfield Oil Corporation, his company, for the month of May, enjoyed the greatest sales increase for any single month in Richfield's history.

It is estimated that during that month over 650,000 motorists of the western states had purchased the new Hi-Octane gasoline produced in Richfield's new multi-million dollar refinery.

When asked what he thought caused this great increase Dr. Dinkins answered, "I must give great credit to our refinery and automotive engineering staffs for creating a new motor fuel that has made possible the unprecedented claim of out-performing other non-premium gasoline in the motorist's opinion of refunding twice the purchase price. The quality of this All-Time Hi-Octane is evidenced by the continued purchases of new customers; their comments to our dealers and the largest number of unsolicited letters of praise that this company has ever received. We feel special credit should be attributed to the newspapers for disseminating the facts about this new gasoline."

This is a "diagramless" crossword puzzle. It is the same as any regular crossword, except that the numbers and black squares must be inserted by the solver. It's harder—but a lot of fun! As a clue, the first word is probably of four letters, because the next word across is No. 5. Put in the word, with a black square after it.

CHANGE INSTITUTED IN UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE
FOR RAILROAD WORKERS, EFFECTIVE JULY 1;
SOME MUST FILE NEW CLAIMS

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Effective on July 1, the State Department of Employment will no longer be responsible for payment on unemployment insurance to railroad workers.

This announcement was made today by John S. Horn, Los Angeles, member of the Unemployment Reserve Commission and one of the representatives of labor on the Commission.

Horn said advice from the Social Security Board has instructed the Commission to refer all railroad employee claimants for insurance to claims agents designated by the Railroad Retirement Board.

The state, however, will re-determine claims of those persons whose earnings have been in employment subject to the Railroad Retirement Act, and other employers. It will continue to pay benefits to all those persons on the basis of their earnings in employment other than that covered by the Railroad Retirement Act until such claims are exhausted.

Horn also announced that claimants who have had earnings in railroad work and in other work may file claims after July 1 with either the Department of Employment or the Railroad Retirement Board, but may not receive benefits at the same time from each agency.

Horn also advises that railroad workers who are now drawing benefits based only on railroad work must file new claims with the Railroad Retirement Board in order to draw benefits after July 1, 1939, even though they have not drawn all the benefits which had been previously awarded by the state department.

UNEMPLOYMENT RESERVE
ACT AMENDED BY LEGISLATURE

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Gov. Culbert Olson has signed a bill to tighten enforcement procedure of the state unemployment reserves act and to prescribe penalties for non-payment of taxes.

The bill allows a 60-day delinquency period but permits the reserves commission to levy 10 per cent penalties plus interest for failure to pay without good cause, and a 15 per cent penalty where international fraud has been committed.

Another approved bill eliminates taxation based on uncompensated officers of non-profit organizations, service and fraternal groups where less than eight such officers are employed.

WHAT'S WHAT AT A GLANCE
WASHINGTON - WORLDBy CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

ALTHOUGH President Roosevelt lost his fight in congress to reorganize the federal supreme court, he has quite effectively reorganized it nevertheless. Four of the members of the bench when the "nine old men" (not now nearly as old, on an average, as they were) adjourned for the summer a few days ago, were his own appointees. Of the other five, three have been moderately liberal, and two good liberals all along. Only two of the original die-hard conservatives remain.

And it isn't improbable that the present White House tenant will out of this pair before the end of his current term—not to mention the possibility that he'll get a third lease on the executive mansion. If that happens it's likely enough that, before 1945, he'll have chosen the court's entire personnel.

Upon F. D.'s initial inauguration there's no question that the high tribunal was, on the whole, too conservative for his taste. It knocked out some of his New Deal measures, and forced him to advance against others that he'd have advocated if he hadn't realized that they'd be judicially blocked as unconstitutional, if enacted.

Since then, however, he's had those four vacancies to fill. True, he didn't score four gains. Justices Holmes (dead) and Brandeis (resigned) were as loyal liberals as he could have desired. He put other liberals in their places, but he could claim only two actual acquisitions.

Today's Rooseveltian selections on the bench are Justices Black, Frankfurter, Reed and Douglas.

It can be assumed that they suit the New Deal down to the ground. Additionally there are Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds, Butler, Stone and Roberts. Early in his career Chief Justice Hughes, as an insurance investigator, classed as a very turbulent reformer. Some of his activity was off later on, but he can't be said ever to have been a reactionary. Justice McReynolds is a curiosity. President Wilson appointed him on the theory that he was well to the "left." He turned out decidedly to the "rightward" instead. He and Justice Butler have been the two worst thorns in the New Deal's ribs. There's talk to the effect that McReynolds is soon to resign. If he does, Butler will be left as the lone old-guardsmen—and, in the course of nature, HE can't last indefinitely. As to Chief Justice Hughes—whether considered as a liberal or a conservative, he's 75 and was so ill as to be bedridden when the court adjourned.

Justice Stone, a Coolidge appointee, who ought to have been extremely conservative, has been middling liberal. Justice Roberts, not quite as liberal as Justice Stone, has been fairly so also.

What Have We?
We have then Justices Black, Frankfurter, Reed and Douglas, rampaging New Dealers—provided that none of them flops, as Justice McReynolds did.

Chief Justice Hughes, once extremely liberal but only conservatively so at the present writing. Justice Stone as 60 per cent liberal, and Justice Roberts as 50-60. Justices McReynolds and Butler, as away to the right.

And finally, the consideration that Chief Justice Hughes and Justices McReynolds and Butler are on the verge of the grave—with new appointments (by President Roosevelt?) ahead to succeed them.

F. D.'s Triumph
Where F. D. wins out is here: What he wanted to do was to make the supreme court a rather transitory body. If he'd had his way, it wouldn't have lasted long enough to prevent his successor (maybe an anti-New Dealer) from changing its complexion completely. But the defeat of his plan has kept it in semi-perpetuity.

Suppose his successor in the White House is an anti-New Dealer. He still will have a hold-over pro-New Deal supreme court on his hands, to crab ANTI-New Deal readjustments, by pronouncing them unconstitutional.

F. D.'s system has been kind of frozen into permanency by his unintentional failure to provide an easily changeable supreme court.

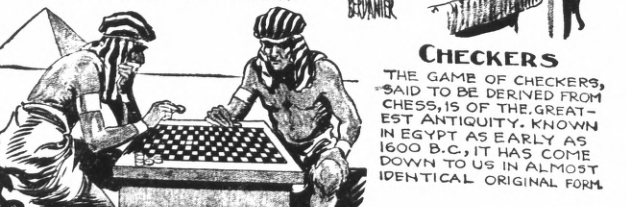

Townsend Amendment
Given Approval

WASHINGTON (UP)—The senate judiciary committee Monday approved, 9 to 7, a constitutional amendment proposed by advocates of the Townsend pension plan. Introduced by Sen. Charles O. Andrews, D. Fla., the amendment provides that "congress shall have the power to levy taxes for old age assistance."

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

NEW YORK. (P)—As if I didn't already know it, helpful correspondents have written in to advise me that I had better have a new job lined up for myself in the event my Galento knocks out Joe Louis at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

They point out, and quite properly, that no man with enough pride to wash his neck on Saturday night and say the things I have about Galento and then continue to pose as a sports expert after he had won, had not given this much thought until today, when, from the public offices of Promoter Mike Jacobs, came a most alarming little brochure. As I read its neatly mimeographed pages I entertained, for the first time, an idea that Galento might possibly win.

The brochure that caused my uneasiness was largely devoted to a physical comparison of Galento and Louis. In black and white it revealed that an unbiased surveyor found after going over both of them with a tape measure, a transit, a plumb bob. After studying it I could not help but admit that Galento had the better of it and, in paper, was the better man.

Galento is 29 years of age to 25 Louis, and a man can learn a lot in four years, especially those years between 25 and 29. Take my own case, for example. At 25 I didn't ride a bicycle without touching the handle bars, was a total loss over the fudge bowl, and had never heard of the Dione quintuplets. At 29 I still hadn't heard of the quintuplets, but I was corresponding secretary of our local cycling club and could whip up a dish of fudge with the best of them.

Galento has it all over Louis when it comes to the neck. Galento is being 18½ around and Joe's is 16½. As I get it, the neck holds the head in place, and so the better the neck the better a fellow holds his head. If you think the neck isn't important, just try and go along without yours for a while.

Galento's ankles make those of Louis look sickly. Tony has 12 inches of ankle on each foot, and you can pore through all the records of all the sports without finding an athlete who made good on weak ankles. The ankle is the staff of life (or so someone has said) and Tony will enter the ring with a beautiful set.

Working up from the ankle we reach the calf, and Galento has a pair that would get blue ribbons at any fair. Each one is nearly 19 inches around. Louis, on the other hand (or the other calf) measures a scant 15 inches around the calf. Had I known this I certainly would not have made him such a tremendous favorite. Half a calf, like half a loaf, is no good in the prize ring.

When the thighs are reached Galento is so superior that I wouldn't be surprised if Louis insisted on wearing long pants Wednesday to avoid having his own revealed as so inadequate. Galento's thighs are measured in yards, and there is a report that Sculptor Gutzon Borglum covets them for a bas relief of American history along the lines of his work in the Black Hills and on Stone Mountain.

When the chest is reached Galento has it over Louis like a tent over a circus. Galento's chest is vastly superior to that of the champion, be it expanded, deflated, with vest, without vest, or covered with tattooing. Galento weighs a lot more, too. He will bring into the ring (perhaps with the help of a basket) 230 pounds of trained-to-the minute suet, while Louis will have to depend on fewer than 200 pounds of muscle.

If it weren't too late, and if it wouldn't make me such a sissy, I would retract all I said, and come out flatly for Galento. But I won't. With what I believe you will admit is commendable courage I will stay out on my limb, hazard the long chance, and continue to predict a victory for Louis.

If Joe loses let me know if you hear of any business openings. I am handy at hanging hammocks; am pretty good at matching chair samples, and can operate a play-along without yours for a while.

PETROLEUM EXHIBIT AT TREASURE ISLAND CENTER OF INTEREST

The remodeled and enlarged presentation of Golden Gate Exposition Petroleum Exhibitors, Inc., in the Vacationland Building on Treasure Island is one of the outstanding centers of interest for visitors to the World's Fair.

The expenditure of an additional $50,000 in increasing the various displays in the Petroleum Exhibit has resulted in distinct improvement in viewing the numerous interesting features in this combined presentation of fifteen oil companies.

Motorists find the remodeled Motor Laboratory of particular interest, since it serves to graphically demonstrate many of the fundamentals of petroleum products used in the operation of motor cars. Motion pictures show many of the interesting tests which have been made in the development of motor fuels, while by means of a newly installed loud speaker system, attendants explain the numerous interesting machines in operation in the laboratory.

The model oil refinery, so constructed as to give in a few minutes the entire story of the refining processes, serves to give the layman an idea of the numerous complex steps in refining operations. The model refinery is built to a scale of one-half inch to the foot.

The puppet show, having given more than 1100 consecutive performances, continues to be one of the feature attractions which all visitors enjoy.

2 RAIL RATE HEARINGS OF IMPORTANCE TO SHIPPERS

SACRAMENTO.—Of great importance to California agriculture are two Interstate Commerce Commission hearings to be held in this state in July, the California Department of Agriculture has been informed.

Continuing their battle started five years ago, the railroads are seeking to have the commission revise upward the estimated weights of packages of fruits and vegetables.

While a transportation rate increase is not involved, spokesmen for California producers say the granting of the railroad application would have the same force and effect.

First of the hearings will be held in San Francisco, July 5, Empire Hotel, beginning at 10 a. m.

The second hearing will be held in the State Building, Los Angeles, July 17, beginning at 10 a. m.

Evidence and testimony to be considered at the San Francisco hearing will be confined to estimated weights of deciduous tree fruits moving in interstate commerce.

Evidence and testimony to be received at the Los Angeles hearing will be confined to data concerning estimated weights of vegetables and melons moving from California and Arizona to interstate destinations.

Among other data to be presented at the San Francisco hearing will be that of the Federal-State Market News Service, California Department of Agriculture, relating to prices paid for California fruit at eastern auction markets in recent years, bearing and non-bearing acreage, and other information of a similar nature.

THE LEGISLATURE REALLY WANTS DEMOCRATS TO HOLD THEIR NATIONAL CONVENTION IN SOME CALIFORNIA CITY

SACRAMENTO. (P)—If the 1940 democratic national convention is not held in some California city, it will not be because one of the most superlatively worded invitations ever written was not extended.

All the adjectives ever thought up by various chambers of commerce to describe the advantages of living in California were included in a resolution adopted by the legislature urging selection of a "major California city" for the 1940 democratic national convention.

The memorial, sent to Chairman James A. Farley and the Democratic National Committee, said in part as follows:

"Whereas, California is an ideal state within which to hold such a convention because of its adequate convention facilities, adequate and comfortable hotel accommodations, the unsurpassed cuisine, typical of all sections of the United States, the best entertainment in the world, the most equal spring climate in the United States with comfortable days and cool evenings, as contrasted with climates of other sections of the United States; and

"Whereas, California is an ideal state in which to hold such a convention because of its unexcelled vacation attractions, such as lovely snow-capped mountains, with ice-cold, trout-filled sparkling streams, pleasant resorts, magnificent lakes, unsurpassed natural and man-made harbors, beautiful beaches, a long coastline of varied character, and the longest and best paved highways in the world; and

"Whereas, California is an ideal state in which to hold such a convention because of its friendly, loyal people, made up of native sons and daughters and representing former residents of every state in the Union—a people schooled in the art of hospitality and friendship and overflowing with a willingness and wish to show the representative democrats of the United States that California is now the foremost and most progressive state in the greatest nation on earth; now there-fore, be it

"Resolved: That the assembly and senate of the state of California, jointly, memorialize the National Democratic Committee and the Hon. James A. Farley, chairman thereof, to designate a major city of the state of California as a place where the 1940 democratic national convention shall be held."

EPILEPSY IS REPORTABLE TO HEALTH OFFICE UNDER NEW LAW

Although not a communicable disease, epilepsy is a menace to the public health because it is responsible for many automobile accidents, Dr. W. M. Dickie, state health officer, declared.

He praises the law which goes into effect September 18 and makes cases of epilepsy reportable to the State Department of Public Health. "If he survives the accident, the epileptic driver almost invariably claims he had gone to sleep. Actually, he may think that is true despite the fact that he knows he has epilepsy," Dr. Dickie said.

"What really happens is that the epileptic driver loses consciousness during a convulsive seizure of the disease. The loss of consciousness may be only for a few seconds but long enough to cause a bad accident."

Because epilepsy has not been reported in the past, no one knows how many people are afflicted with the disease in California. One clinic at the University of California hospital in San Francisco reports that it has treated 255 cases of epilepsy in the past two years.

One form of epilepsy is called "petit mal" or "little sickness." Patients afflicted with this form do not have the dramatic convulsions commonly recognized as epilepsy but suffer from transient flashes of unconsciousness.

The FARMERS CORNER

Within a few days, Californians—as well as all Americans—will celebrate the Fourth of July, the most significant anniversary of a liberty-loving people.

The Declaration of Independence, the most cherished document of the world's first and greatest democracy, will be read and re-read in public schools, city plazas, memorial auditoriums and public meeting places the nation over.

Bands will play the stirring marches and patriotic songs of a country proud of its heritage. Veterans will parade. Orators will make history live again. And the average American citizen, whether he stays at home for a family reunion, stays on his farm to harvest his crops, stands with bared head at some public ceremonial—or, perhaps, takes advantage of the holiday for a long-delayed fishing trip—will inevitably think a bit of America and the sacrifice and struggle which have gone into the building of America.

In this writer's opinion, the finest way any American can celebrate the Fourth of July this year, irrespective of what else he may do during the holiday, is just to "think a bit."

After ten years of depression, with our economic problems still unsolved, America probably needs serious, sober thought—intelligent deliberation and careful consideration of our individual problems, our neighbor's problems and our country's problems—more than it needs any other thing. For both California and the nation have vital need to find the road back to security and independence—and they can only find that road by united, intelligent effort, based on straight thinking and honest, unselfish reasoning.

During a period of social and economic upheaval, with dwindling incomes, widespread unemployment and far too much of distress and privation, it is not unnatural that quack cure-alls and get-rich-quick patent remedies have been sold on every street corner. Nor is it unnatural that thousands of men and women, who ordinarily would reject such spurious panaceas as unsound and unworkable, have been induced to hunt for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. But most Americans have learned by this time—or should have learned, for experience is a hard teacher—that a nation can't spend itself rich, nor abolish the simple, natural law that all basic wealth and income must come from production.

California and America need a new order of patriotism—a patriotism which goes beyond reverence for the flag and respect for American traditions; a patriotism which makes for intelligent, unselfish, straight-thinking citizenship.

If some eloquent malcontent tells you that "the capitalistic system" is the vicious system used by the money barons and corporate interests to keep you in serfdom, think back a bit! The so-called "capitalistic system," reduced to everyday terms, is the system of individual enterprise which gives you the right to own a farm, if you can save enough to make the down payment, or the corner grocery store—if you are thrifty enough to achieve it—or the biggest business in America, if you happen to have the genius, ingenuity and determination to acquire it. It is the system which has given America more material comforts—even in the worst times—than any other nation on the face of the globe; which built California from a few gold camps to the most glorious and prosperous state in the Union. And it happens to be the system of Washington, Jefferson, Abe Lincoln and a few other great Americans who did more for the cause of human liberty than all the soap box orators and something-for-nothing agitators of this generation.

America needs to get back to basic principles; it needs to learn again that it is intelligent to save against a rainy day, rather than smart to apply for relief and "let the other fellow carry the burden;" it needs to learn that real wages are fixed by production, rather than labor leaders; that pensions must be paid out of the sweat of those who labor (and therefore can't exceed the earned salaries of the workers who pay them), and that independence begets responsibilities. It needs to "think a bit!"

The LETTER BOX

Placerville badly needs a public morals system or a mandatory quarantine system.

Or, to make it short, it should be compulsory for every citizen, when they find contagious disease in the home, to go directly to the City Hall and get a red sign to tack on their home, or pay a $25 fine or go to jail.

Now, two weeks after school has closed, all these cases of measles and mumps are reported. Just the right time required for them to develop.

Measles and mumps are going to stay here if Placerville doesn't wake up. M.J.N.

EAST-BAY BUTCHERS' STRIKE MAKES 1,250 IDLE

OAKLAND, (UP)—Twelve hundred and fifty members of the butchers' union of Alameda county refused to report for work today at San Francisco east bay slaughter houses, packing plants and retail butcher shops in a jurisdictional dispute that threatened possible eventual tie-up of meat distribution throughout the state.

The conflict between the two American Federation of Labor unions centered around 52 "salesmen-drivers" whom both unions claim as members.

All members of the Board of Supervisors were on duty Tuesday, attending to the business of winding up the work of the fiscal year.

"BACK DOOR TO HEAVEN" TOPS TWO-DAY EMPIRE SHOW

The production of "Back Door to Heaven," the heart-touching drama which opens tonight and Wednesday at the Empire Theatre, represents the realization of a life-time ambition to William K. Howard, who not only wrote the story of the picture, but produced and directed it as well. While not adhering strictly to actual fact, the basis for the story lies in the lives of Howard and a friend who grew up with him in a small town.

Howard and this friend were born within a few months of each other in a small Ohio town called St. Mary's. They went to school together. Howard continued his studies and graduated from Ohio State University, entering motion pictures as a sales manager, later becoming a member of a notorious mid-western gang, and his escape from the death house on one occasion made front page news.

Columbia's "My Son is a Criminal," heralded as one of the most human and dramatic gangster films ever to reach the screen, is the second picture on the bill, starring Alan Baxter, Jacqueline Wells, Gordon Oliver and Willard Robertson. Said to be one of the most "different" of recent crime stories, the new film has been hailed especially for its final-thrill-packed scenes.

NAW...
I NEVER

THIS NEW
HI-OCTANE

"THE SAME OLD STUFF'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME"

THIS type of mind is the "monkey wrench" in the wheels of progress. If he were typical, Richfield would have made a wasteful expenditure of many millions in completing one of the finest refineries in the world.

We offer him a double-his-money-back guarantee that, in his opinion, THE NEW ALL-TIME HI-OCTANE WILL COMPLETELY OUT-PERFORM ALL OTHER NON-PREMIUM GASOLINES IN CITY TRAFFIC—ON HIGHWAYS—IN THE MOUNTAINS—

OR THE DESERT—IN ANY WEATHER. Why then would even a skeptic ignore this opportunity?

Fortunately the average American mind doesn't work like his, as evidenced by the hundreds of thousands of motorists who are enjoying this newest and most important improvement in gasoline.

See for yourself how it completely revalues the performance of your car.
